

105TH CONGRESS
1ST SESSION

S. CON. RES. 54

Expressing the sense of Congress that the United States Postal Service should maintain the postal uniform allowance program.

IN THE SENATE OF THE UNITED STATES

OCTOBER 21, 1997

Mr. DEWINE submitted the following concurrent resolution; which was referred to the Committee on Governmental Affairs

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

Expressing the sense of Congress that the United States Postal Service should maintain the postal uniform allowance program.

Whereas the United States Postal Service has successfully supplied uniforms to its employees for 42 years under the postal uniform allowance program;

Whereas the postal uniform allowance program currently provides business to more than 1,000 American companies throughout the United States which, in turn, employ more than 10,000 American workers;

Whereas the United States Postal Service has proposed a new, centralized uniform procurement system that would result in substantial loss of business to those American companies and turn over control of the procurement system to a single vendor; and

Whereas the United States Postal Service has, in recent years, become more profitable while continuing to use the postal uniform allowance program: Now therefore, be it

1 Resolved by the Senate (the House of Representatives
2 concurring), That it is the sense of Congress that the
3 United States Postal Service should maintain its current
4 postal uniform allowance program and make necessary
5 changes to improve that program, rather than implement
6 a centralized, single-vendor program.
